

Memoir Writing Workshop

with ANA CASTILLO

Internationally Acclaimed Poet and Award Winning Author

Saturday, Sept, 26, 2009

9:00-12:00 pm

San Antonio, TX

In cooperation with Wings Press

In memoir, the reader must be persuaded that the narrator is writing honestly, whether or not he/she is, is secondary. It doesn't matter as much 'what happened' as what you make of what you remember may have happened.

The workshop will consist of exercises, which help us to know how to get started when desiring to work on a memoir essay.

We'll talk, we'll laugh, we'll cry. We'll vent. We'll write from our hearts and our minds. And then, we'll learn to get rid of all the sentimentality and leave on the page what is important for the reader to know about your memoir. Three hours with Ana Castillo, poet, novelist all around genre-jumper. Persons interested must submit 1 pg writing sample to apply. 18 yrs. and up.

email: anacastilloworkshops@gmail.com Cost: $175 per person

Limit only 15 per workshop

Exact locations and times will be given once applicant has been accepted.
